OTHER WORK EXPERIENCE

Have you, or are you currently, served/serving with other missionary organizations dealing with issues pertaining to the sex-industry or sex-trafficking? (If the answer is YES please complete the questionnaire below):

If yes, when, for how long and where:

Name of organization:

What role are/were you involved in?

QUESTIONNAIRE

1. What first drew you to the ministry of the MST Project? What intrigues you the most about this ministry?

2. Do you think grace pertains to these men? If so, how? If not, why?

3. Do you have any ideas of how to offer practical help to these men?

4. What, if anything, do you think could inspire these men to seek change? How could you help bring that about?

5. If faced with a rude, or an even violent encounter, how would you respond?

WORKING WITH TWO PERSPECTIVES

For those individuals who have worked with, or are currently working with ministries or programs dealing with issues pertaining to the sex-industry, please complete the questions below.

1. Do you have the go-ahead from your NGO/ministry leader to be involved in the MST project?
2. Have you considered the challenges of working in two different ministries, one reaching out to the men, and one to the women/children? After hearing the stories from the women/children is it possible for you to care for these men?
3. If you have worked with the women/children is your goal primarily to bring justice to the “abuser”?
4. By going into the red-light districts for both the men and the women, will it create a conflict of interest? What should one do if while reaching out to a man, one of the women wants to talk with you? If you work with bar girls have you considered that they might feel upset if they see you befriending the men?
5. What should we as Christians do to maintain our witness while talking to a woman in a bar? How would a man see our witness if he sees us in a bar?
